The Season of Harvest.

It is specially appropriate that Thanksgiving should be offered to Almighty God at the season f Harvest. The time of the ingathering of the buits of the earth has always been marked by special services. The Jews held their Harvest Services at Pentecost, which corresponds with our Whitsuntide. Owing to the character of the semi-tropical climate of Palestine the crops were reaped before the heat of summer arrived. our colder climate the crops continue to grow brough the summer heat and the reaping takes place in Autumn. But this distinction of seasons had no effect in altering the duty of Thanksliving. In a very solemn manner the Jew offered n the Temple or local Synagogue the first sheaf of Harvest. The Jewish farmer carrying into his place of Worship the sheaf cut from his own ields and offering it solemnly to the Most High provided a vivid picture of man's recognition of God's natural gifts. Even so must the Chrisian show by his attendance in the House of Prayer and by his offering of a suitable gift, ex-Press his thankfulness to his Heavenly Father for the gift of the Harvest. If our people come to our Harvest Services in this spirit of Worship and hankfulness the Harvest Season of 1934 will oring great blessing to our Parish.

Harvest Thanksgiving Services.

Our annual Services of Thanksgiving for the Blessings of Harvest will be held (D.V.) on Thursday, October 18th, at 8 p.m., and on Sunday, October 21st, at 8 a.m (Holy Communion), 1.30 a.m., Morning Prayer, and 7 p.m., Evendag Prayer. The Rev. Canon Moore, M.A., Recor of St. Donard's Church, Belfast, and the Rev. I. Lea, M.A., Rector of Mullavilly, will be the Pecial preachers. The offerings on Thursday will be on behalf of Foreign Missions, and on Sunday or our Parochial Fund, which provides for the Tarish Church and its services.

The C.L.B.

The Church Lads' Brigade began its new session on Tuesday, 11th September. The Training Corps will meet weekly, in the Parochial Hall, Edenderry, on Tuesdays at 7.30 p.m.; the Cadets on Tuesdays at 8.30 p.m. Those intending to join the Brigade this year should do so without delay. The age limits for the Training Corps are from nine to fourteen, and for the Cadets from fourteen to twenty-one.

A Visit to Mrs. Wolseley.

During the Rector's recent holiday he had the pleasure of visiting in London Mrs. Wolseley, widow of Major Wolseley, and daughter of the Rev. Capel Wolseley, who was Curate of Seagoe from March, 1847, to March, 1859. Mrs. Wolselev was born in Seagoe 86 years ago, in the year 1848, and was baptized in Seagoe Church on November 16th, 1848. Notwithstanding her great age she is in wonderful health and remembers distinctly her early days in Seagoe, where she lived until she was eleven years of age. flight of years has not lessened her interest in the old Parish, and she spoke with animation and enthusiasm about her experiences in the Parish. She is greatly interested in Seagoe Magazine, which is sent to her each month, and the August number was on the sofa beside her at the time of the Rector's visit. Mrs. Wolseley was born in Seagoe Cottage, where Mr. T. H. Wilson now resides, but after a few years her father moved to the house newly built for him higher up Church Lane, now occupied by Mr. Robinson. This house was known as Dun-Eglish,

or the Fort of the Church. The name is an ancient one and apparently arose from an earthen

Fort erected many centuries ago on the same site. Mrs. Wolseley remembers the strenuous work which her father had to accomplish. He held services at places seven miles distant from the Church for in his days the parish extended beyond Lurgan to Analoist and Bird Island. She also recalls his work in the Sunday School which was held in the Church, the present School not being built until 1859. Mr. Capel Wolseley had a very faithful coachman and general helper in Sam Russell, of Drumgor, and when Mr. Wolseley left Seagoe for the Parish of Lisadell, in Sligo, Sam went there with him. Mrs. Wolseley has also vivid recollections of Archdeacon and Mrs. Saurin, who lived in "the big house." She was somewhat afraid of the Archdeacon. He used sometimes to look at her when she was seated in the big square pew in the Church, and she called him "the man with the india-rubber face." Mrs. Saurin had two lap-dogs, which were great pets, and Mrs. Wolseley was greatly interested in them. Their names were

"Linda" and "Soleta."

While Archdeacon Saurin and his family in Spain from 1885 to 1858 Annesley Beers came to Parish to assist Mr. Wolseley. He and Mrs. Beers and their family of young children lived at the Rectory. Mrs. Wolseley remembers Mr. Beers's energy as a preacher and noticed that he chose very difficult texts. She also recalls a children's party at the Rectory at which there was a beautiful doll of great size. She admired it greatly and thought how nice it would be if she had a doll like it. When the guests were leaving the Rectory Mrs. Beers took up the doll in both hands and gracefully handed it to Miss Annie Wolseley. Her delight knew no bounds. Mrs. Wolseley's only son, Sir Capel Wolseley, Bart., was killed in a motor accident a few years ago. He is buried in Suffolk, and on his grave a rose from Seagoe is grown. This rose grew from a rose which the Rev. Capel Wolseley gave one day to a sister of Miss Jane Collins, of Seagoe, a sprig of which was sent by the Retor to Mrs. Wolseley many years ago. We hope that Mrs. Wolseley will send us some more of her recollections of Seagoe. They will always be read with interest by the parishioners among whom the good work done even so many years ago by her father is still cherished and remembered. wish on behalf of the Parish to express our affectionate regard for Mrs. Wolseley and our hope that she may be spared to many more years of health and happiness.

The New Burial Plot.

We hope to publish the scale of Fees for the new Burial Ground in our next issue. The ground has been kept in order, the grass cut and the walks cleared of weeds. It is a beautiful site under the shadow of the Church and has been most carefully drained with deep drains and surrounded by a handsome protecting wall.

Thirty-six ads were present and the proceedings were very After a hearty tea, some splendid ames were enjoyed under the direction of Capain Mitchell, Lieut Currie and Sergeant-Major Allen. A drill-down for seniors and juniors as followed by "Rats and Rabbits," which was llowed by "Cock-roosters" and boxing. At the ose the Rector and the Rev. W. F. Hayes gave hort addresses and at the close the Brigade rayer was said. Lads of the Parish should join be C.L.B. without delay. The Winter Session egan last Tuesday.

Board of Religious Education.

The annual Sermons on behalf of the Board Religious Education will be preached in the Parish Church on Sunday, September 23rd, at Morning and Evening Prayer. The Board of Education for the United Diocese carries out a most important work in supervising Religious Education in our Day Schools and Sunday Schools. It provides four clerical inspectors who hold annual examinations in the Public Elementary Schools throughout the Diocese. It also supplies books of notes for teachers in our Sunday School and arranges the Sunday School alendars. In it are vested almost all the School wildings in the Diocese, including in Seagoe Parish both Seagoe and Hacknahay Schools.

Envelopes for special subscriptions will be placed in the pews on next Sunday, September 16th, and we ask the Parishioners to kindly help the Funds of the Board by liberal offerings. Last year the offerings from Seagoe were largely increased from former years and we hope for a further increase this year.

ITEMS.

Mrs. David Johnston and her son David have arrived safely at their home in Thompsonville, U.S.A., after their visit to Seagoe.

Many hedges at road corners throughout the Parish need cutting. This should be done without delay so that motor accidents may be avoided.

Electricity is now the motive power in most of the houses in Upper and Lower Seagoe. A kettle of water can be boiled in eight minutes.

Dr. Morres Russell, of Ash Vale, Surrey, is at present on a visit to the Rectory and has renewed his acquaintance with many of the parishioners.

The shortage of water which has prevailed for so many months seems to be coming to an end. The recent heavy rain has replenished the Seagoe wells.

Dr. Victor Walker, of Ipswich, has given his yacht the appropriate name of "Seagoe."

The little book "Stretching Forward" given to each of those who have recently been confirmed has proved helpful to many.

The swallows will soon be leaving for North and South Africa. We wonder who will see the last swallow ere it leaves Seagoe for the southern clime.

We regret a delay in the publication of the Magazine this month. We hope it will not cause inconvenience to any of our readers.

The Annual Report is in the printer's hands and will be issued shortly.

A punctual giving of your Free-Will Offering Envelope in Church each Sunday will greatly help our Parish Finances and if you are in arrears with your envelopes a payment of the arrears will be greatly appreciated. "God loveth a cheerful giver."

Twenty-Five Years Ago. AUGUST, 1909.

The issue of the Magazine for August, 1909, contains the following items of Parish news:-The Churchwardens are Mr. James Albin and Mr. J. G. Gracev. On Aug. 26th a summer Fete was to be held in Hacknahay School, and great preparations were being made for it. The Farm Produce Stall was to be in charge of Miss Calvert, and Miss Neill was to be in charge of the Variety Stall. Miss Wilson was to preside over the Refreshment Stall. The proceeds were to be in aid of the new Day School at Hacknahay. Sergt. Long and Sergt. Turner are commended for saving a man's life at the station. A reference is made to the recently introduced Old-Age Pensions. Four Baptisms, Five Marriages and Two Burials are recorded. The Rev. Percy Marks had preached at the Anniversary Service on July 11th. Tom England heads the list for Church Attendance cards. In Old Seagoe Notes the name of George Ross is recorded as the architect who designed Seagoe Church in 1813. A list of the holdings in Lower Seagoe with acreage in 1743, is given. Meredith Atkinson's holding of 45 acres 2 roods and 32 perches was the largest.

Our Sunday Schools.

The Sunday Schools throughout the Parish have now resumed work after the holiday time. The careful study of the Word of God and of the Formularies of the Church is more than ever necessary for our young people in these days of wavering faith and cold indifference to spiritual truths.

Seagoe Mothers' Union.

A meeting of the Mothers' Union was held in Seagoe School on Tuesday, September 11th There was a large attendance of members. The Rev. F. Patterson, B.A., Curate of St. Mark's gave an address on "Purity of Home Life." The Rector presided, and after the address by Mr. Patterson tea was provided. After tea the Rector gave an account of his recent holiday. The next meeting on Tuesday, October 9th, will take the form of a musical evening. A hearty vote of congratulation was passed to Mrs. J. R. Reid, our former President and Secretary.
